YOUTH BLESSING BUT NOT A MERIT

Age Brings Experience, Says Judge
Comstock, Answering Opponents
in Congressional Race.

SPEAKS HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

Refers to Candidacy Briefly, Devoting Most of Time to Discussion
of Political Issues.

Declaring that youth is a blessing
but not a merit and that age brings experience, the pleasures of memory
and the recollection of devotion of friends, Judge Daniel W. Comstock of Richmond, candidate for the Republican congressional nomination,
in his formal speech here, took that method of replying to his opponents.

Judge Comstock was greeted by a good-sized audience. Judge Will M.
Sparks introduced him briefly, commenting on his long connection with the Republican party and his honorable service in the war.

Judge Comstock apologized for his personal references, but explained that the primary made two campaigns instead of one necessary,
and that since all at the meeting were agreed as to the correctness of the policies of the Republican party,
it behooved him to dwell briefly on his own career because he was offering
himself as a candidate for congress.

Judge Comstock made a finished and highly interesting speech. He criticized the Democratic party on its preparedness and tariff issues
and pointed to the present day prosperity that is "nourished and fostered by the blood of fathers, husbands
and sons and watered by the tears
of women and children."

He referred to his record in public office in answer to the charge that he is not only too old, but has held office too much already. He recalled that he had been elected prosecutor, judge of the circuit court in Wayne county twice and
once to the state appellate court, honestly and fairly, and had never been appointed to any office. Judge Comstock said he had never been accused of not executing the duties of the offices he had held honestly and fairly.

Judge Comstock recalled some early Rush county history when he enumerated briefly the early history of his life. He was elected prosecutor of the common pleas court at Newcastle and Rush county was in his jurisdiction. He resigned the office to enlist in the war and came to Rushville on a certain Saturday to draw his salary due from Rush county—$40 a year. The office paid $200 a year. Judge Comstock remembered that on that day Governor Hendricks was here, at the instigation of the then governor, Oli-

HAS THE SENATE UNDER CONTROL

Administrations Are in Majority
Concerning Warning Resolution, Lewis Reports.

RESOLUTIONS WILL COME UP

Secretary Lansing and Chairman
Flood Discuss Possibility of a Compromise.

HERE'S 16 TO I AGAIN.

Washington, Feb. 26.—Attaches at the white house today estimated the telegrams
received supporting President
Wilson in his stand on armed merchantmen are about sixteen
to one against asking that Americans be warned off
armed ships as advocated by Bryan.

(By United Press.)
Washington, Feb. 25.—Assurance
that the senators endorsing President Wilson's stand against warning
Americans to stay off armed liners
are in the majority was given this afternoon by Senator Lewis, Democratic "whip" of the senate.

After canvassing each senator,
Lewis reported to Chairman Stone
that opposition to the president
could not prevail. He recommended that the Gore and Jones resolutions
be allowed to come to a vote as soon
as the authors desired.

Senator Lewis also prepared a
resolution which he expects to introduce Monday endorsing the president's stand.

One of the allies, probably France,
has replied to the suggestion from
the United States that merchant vessels be disarmed as a measure of humanity.

What the answer is and from
which of the allies it comes was not
officially made known, but the state
department made clear today that it
will have no effect on the present difficulty with Germany. Department officials were surprised that one of
the allies answered alone, a joint
reply having been expected.

Germany will not be asked to delay the putting into effect of her decree that armed vessels be sunk
without warning beginning March 1.
It is not expected that Germany will
postpone the date without being asked to do so.

In the meantime Washington exhibited less excitement than it had for several days. This was largely due to restrictive measures adopted by
administration leaders in congress.
Discussion of the issue was kept
from the floor of both houses.

Neither Secretary Lansing or Chairman Flood of the foreign relations committee who conferred at
some length on the possibility of a
compromise resolution of warning
which Flood wished to offer in the house, would comment following
their conference.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

The First Degree team
will meet at the hall tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to prepare for the county meeting Monday night.

Mrs. Fred Caldwell underwent an operation this morning at the Sexton sanatorium for gall stones and appendicitis. She is doing nicely.

their home in Glenwood. Short services were conducted at the residence yesterday afternoon and burial took place in the Ben Davis Creek cemetery.

MONDAY WILL BE A VERY BUSY DAY

Road and Bridges Will be Topic
When Two Boards of Commissions and Council Meet.

JOINT SESSION TO BE HELD

First Street Petition and Falmouth-Glenwood Road Will Both be Considered.

With the county commissioners of Rush and Fayette county in joint-
session and the county council
meeting, Monday promises to be a busy day at the court house. Roads
will be the main topic under consideration by the county commissioners
and the council will be occupied
with bridge problems.

The county council was called to
make a few appropriations covering
some deficiencies in some bridge
funds. It is also likely that the commissioners may make an appropriation for the building of the big bridge over Blue river, near Carthage, which was damaged in the recent flood. This bridge is a county
line bridge and will have to be constructed by Rush and Hancock
counties.

The council was called for the express purpose of considering this
bridge, but the funds for some other
bridges are low and more money
will be needed. Some have estimated that the Blue River bridge will cost about $12,000 or $15,000. It will be necessary for Rush county
to appropriate all of the money for
the cost and pay for the bridge, and
then Hancock county will reimburse
this county. The council will not likely take any definite action on
this bridge until a more accurate estimate is secured.

The county commissioners' attention at this meeting will be taken up with roads. This is the time for considering the petition for the paving of First street under the three-mile road law. The petition has been on file and the next step, if the
commissioners look favorably on the proposed improvement, is the appointment of viewers. There is some talk among the petitioners of modifying the petition and not taking the improvement so far out in the county as is now called for.

The petitioners believe that the
road should end about a quarter of a mile west of the Big Four tracks
and not at the Will L. King corner
as is called for in the original petition. The main reason for this, it is stated, is because they believe it
will be hard to find a set of viewers,
who will act favorably on the west
end of the road as it is now in fine
condition.

The Fayette county commissioners are called here to sit with the Rush county board to consider the
petition for the road improvement
between Glenwood and Falmouth.
The road will be about five miles
long and the petition asks for a gravel road. It is believed there will be little or no opposition to this
improvement, as the two townships
involved can stand the expense
without being bonded to the four
per cent. limit.

Dr. C. E. Baon of Connersville

ducted the quarterly conference of the St. Paul's M. E. church.

ness of importance will come before

ASSESSORS TALK OVER WORK TODAY

Township Officials Meet Today to Receive Instructions and Agree
on Assessments.

INSTRUCTIONS FROM BOARD

Basis For Personal Property and Additional Improvements to Real Estate Fixed.

The township assessors met with
Henry W. Schrader, county assessor,
today, at his office in the court
house and discussed their work,
which will begin next Wednesday
and continue for seventy-five days.
The assessors considered the instructions of the state board of tax
commissioners received this week.

Although the law says the assess-
ors shall not take out their supplies
until the day they begin work, it is generally the custom for them to get
supplies when they hold their final
meeting with the county assessor to avoid another trip to the county
seat.

A few days ago the county assessor received a letter from the state board of tax commissioners
asking him to instruct assessors to
take personal property at its true
value and deduct twenty-five percent. for purposes of equalization.
These instructions will no doubt be
followed here.

The assessors and their deputies
have seventy-five days in which to
list the property in the county, the
statute fixing the period from March 1 to May 15. It is the intention of all the assessors to get the work
started immediately after the meeting next Wednesday.

That the total valuation of personal property for 1916 will considerably exceed that of 1915 is the opinion of practically all men who
have to do with the listing of taxables. They point out that the last year has been a much more prosperous one for this community than
was the preceding year, and that it
will necessarily follow that the volume of personal property will be found to have increased. It is said
that the single item of automobiles
will considerably boost the total valuation. It is claimed that there are a third more automobiles owned
in Rush county now than a year
ago. This assertion is based on the fact that all automobile agencies
operating in the county had a much
heavier business within the last year
than they had before in any year
since the automobile industry had
its beginning.

As to whether the volume of farm
animals is as great now as it was a year ago, is a question. It is not improbable that both horses and
cattle are fewer, but is thought that the number of hogs, sheep and poultry will be found to be approximately the same. In some townships the number of hogs will be less, owing
to the scourge of cholera which was visited upon certain neighborhoods
in them.

BABY DIES FROM BURNS.

The two-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Taylor died last night
from the effects of burns it sustained five weeks ago. The funeral will be held at the house at ten o'clock
Sunday morning.

BROTHER IS IMPROVING.

Mrs. Lida Ryker has just returned from Indianapolis where she was called Tuesday on account of the
injury of her brother, Charles E.
Imel, at the Fairmount Glass works
in Indianapolis. He was caught in the belts and severely hurt, but is
now confined in the Methodist hospital and is improving.

HIGH SCHOOL ENTERTAINS GUESTS AT TOURNAMENT

Extensive preparations were made by the high school students in preparation for the tournament to-
day, when they welcomed the delegations from each of the surrounding towns.

An information bureau was stationed in the Graham Building,
where news of the games and directions to the different rooms could be obtained. The domestic science
rooms were converted into a girl's rest room, in which easy chairs and other means for the guests comfort were provided. Pennants and high school colors were generously used in the decorations for this room and also in R. W. Burn's class room, which had been converted into a

BULLETIN.

The first half of the semi-final
looked like a walkaway for Rush-
ville and made it almost certain the
locals would play in the final tonight. The score at the opening of the second half was 17 to 6 in favor of Rushville.

With three teams still in the running, two of which will fight it out in
the final tonight, the semi-final in
the basketball tournament of the Eastern Indiana High School Athletic association began at 3:15 o'clock
this afternoon at the Graham Annex gym. Shelbyville team will play either Greensburg or Rushville tonight for the championship, depending upon who would win the three o'clock game.

Rushville, Shelbyville and Greens-
burg were still contenders when the semi-final opened. Rushville met Greensburg in Rushville's second
game of the day. If Rushville lasts,
they will have played three games
when the final is finished tonight.
The odds were a little in favor of Rushville because Rushville has defeated Greensburg on the local floor
by a safe margin. Greensburg played
a game this morning so that neither team had the bulge in that respect.

Milroy was put out of the running
in one game, when they lost to the Shelbyville quintet, 43 to 19, in the game starting at two o'clock. The first half ended 18 to 13 in favor of Shelbyville, Milroy only making six
points the last half.

Rushville opened the East Central Indiana Athletic association
tournament here this morning with
a victory over the Carthage team,
24 to 16. Carthage was eliminated
after a hard fight.

Following the opening game,
Greensburg defeated Connersville 35
to 15. Both were pretty games and
from all appearances the best teams
won in each contest. Rushville was unfortunate in the drawing of positions as the team will be forced to
play three games to win the tournament. Milroy and Shelbyville were
the two lucky teams. These two teams played at two o'clock this afternoon and the winner will meet the

P. J. Lynch Stands Well at Home

A man's friends and neighbors know him best and their opinion may always be relied upon. The candidate who stands well at home is bound to make a good public servant. On the contrary a candidate that does not possess the confidence of his neighbors is impossible as a candidate for public place.

Patrick J. Lynch of Newcastle, whom the Republicans of the great Sixth District of Indiana will name as their candidate for congress at the primary election on March 7th is known in his home County of Henry as a man of the highest probity, and honor, without a blemish upon his character, foremost in every civic improvement, the head of a great business enterprise and as a clean, able man of more than ordinary talents he possesses the confidence of his neighbors in all walks of life.

Mr. Lynch's friends and neighbors in Henry County—the men with whom he mingles and does business recently assembled in a great mass convention in the city of Newcastle and there heartily endorsed the candidacy of Mr. Lynch and commended him in the strongest possible language to the Republicans of the Sixth District.

This is the answer of his neighbors and friends as to Mr. Lynch's popularity in his own home county:

We, the Republicans of Henry County, in mass convention recognize in Patrick J. Lynch an able and enthusiastic advocate of the Republican Party, an honorable citizen of Henry County and a fit and proper person to represent the Sixth Congressional District in the Congress of the United States, and therefore we recommend his candidacy for that office.

In addition to this the Republican County Committee of Henry County, the governing body of that party in that county, passed resolutions heartily endorsing the candidacy of Mr. Lynch as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress.

Mr. Lynch when a candidate for Congress in 1914 in the District received more votes than the head of the ticket, Hugh T. Miller.

As a campaigner it is generally conceded that Mr. Lynch has not a peer in the State of Indiana. In this present campaign for nomination he will have made when finished over one hundred speeches, visiting every nook and corner of the district.

Predictions are freely made by close observers that he will carry every county in the district by an overwhelming majority, including Wayne county.

The Republican party in this district in the forthcoming campaign needs a vigorous, able campaigner and as a business man standing for the protective tariff, merchant marine and reasonable national defense, Mr. Lynch with his experience, wide acquaintance in the district and his ability as a public speaker can bring victory to the party. With a divided party in 1914 he was almost successful—with a united party in 1916 when nominated he will carry the district by five thousand majority.

The Gem will show a two reel drama "A Tribute to Mother" for the first picture tonight. It is said to tell a gripping story and is true to life. The other picture is a comedy, entitled "Flivver's Terrible Past." On Monday night the three reel feature "The Heart of a Mermaid" will be shown, featuring Mary Fuller.

The Princess offers a two reel feature, "A Question of Right and Wrong," for the first picture tonight. Leah Baird, Maurice Costello and VanDyke Brook are featured and it is said to be a dramatic production. The other picture is a comedy entitled "The Deceivers." Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew are featured. On Monday the feature picture "The Family Cupboard" will be shown. Holbrook Blinn plays the leading character in the story, a man who leads a double life, simply because his home life is uncongenial. He keeps a smart little vaudeville girl "uptown" and is found out by his son, who is captured by the scheming little stage person. Mr. Blinn's part is a strong one, and he does it the amplest justice. The part of the girl is played by Frances Nelson.

The Mystic will show a two act Biograph drama "Mister Paganini" for the first picture tonight. It is said to be a strong drama. The second picture is entitled "The Market Price of Love" and the program is completed with the one act Lubin comedy "Persistent Dalton."

Candidacy of Judge Daniel W. Comstock Endorsed by Republicans of Wayne Co.

The resolution, indorsing the candidacy of Judge Daniel W. Comstock for the Republican nomination as representative to congress from the Sixth Indiana district, passed at the Comstock rally at Richmond follows:

Be it resolved by the Republicans of Wayne county, Indiana, in convention assembled, that the Sixth Congressional District of Indiana should and must be redeemed from Democracy. To that end, we recognize that it is necessary that this county be carried by a re-united Republican party and thus give to said party its old time majority.

Be it further resolved that in the Hon. Daniel W. Comstock we recognize the man who can and will restore the harmony that is necessary to the success of the party. He is a man of high mental and moral attainments. He has served his country patriotically as a soldier in the Civil war; his state and county, as a legislator and a jurist of dignity and learning. There is no blot upon his character, private or public. There is no clique nor faction against him other than the Democratic party. His learning, legislative experience and legal attainments will at once give him recognition and high standing in the house of representatives. His record as a public official is such as to commend him to the peoples' cause in matters of national legislation.

Therefore, we, the Republicans of Wayne county, do hereby most heartily indorse the candidacy of the Hon. Daniel W. Comstock for representative in congress from this district and earnestly ask the other counties of the district to give us their aid in securing his nomination. We pledge them an old fashioned Republican majority in Wayne county if he is nominated.

Our Automatic Dry Rooms

To dry your clothes we hang them upon an endless moving belt which carries them into the steam heated drying cabinet; and after so many times across, it brings them out and automatically drops them, dry and clean, into the basket placed to receive them.

Our dry room is heated by steam pipes and the hot air is kept in constant motion by fans, the damp air being forced out, and pure, clean air admitted continually.

This method of drying insures the freedom of your clothes from dust and dirt of the street, from smoke and grime, etc.—and makes them as sweet and fresh as if dried out of doors.

We keep our dry rooms, as well as our entire plant, clean and sanitary by a thorough cleaning daily.

Vote X for CHARLES OWENS
Republican Candidate from Orange Township for Commissioner Southern District of Rush County, Primary
March 7, 1916

As it is impossible for me to see everyone personally I take this method of introducing myself to the voters of Rush County, Indiana. I am a farmer, always a staunch and loyal Republican; forty-five years of age, married and with a family. I was trustee for Orange Township for six years, and was elected in 1908. I WAS THE FIRST REPUBLICAN TRUSTEE OF ORANGE TOWNSHIP IN TWENTY YEARS PREVIOUS TO THAT TIME. Said township now has a Democratic Trustee. Have served as administrator for various estates in Rush County. I was Secretary and Treasurer of the Building Committee of the Moscow Christian Church built in 1910, was secretary and treasurer of the Moscow Gas Company for 12 years, and if nominated and elected will give Rush County an economical business administration. I am in favor of good roads and lower taxes.

My number on all ballots will be

The American Economist publishes a long list of variations of the expression "take the tariff out of politics," which begins with the New York Evening Sun's amplification, "take the sentiment out of love," and concludes with that of the Economist, "takes the notes out of music." Our humble contribution to the list is, "take the flop out of Woodrow."

The bureau of labor statistics of the U. S. Department of labor presents a very lugubrious report on employment in the "women's ready-to-wear industries." Possibly one reason for this is to be found in the fact that war orders for women's garments are not cutting such a large figure in our export trade.

The American Steel Foundries Company is now running all its plants at full capacity. Total shell orders have been taken in excess of $18,000,000. Democratic prosperity.

It is all right to accuse congress of hunting for pork, but we don't know of a political district in this neck of the woods that won't grab off all the bacon it can get.

Newspaper Comment on Watson Candidacy

Not Friends of G. O. P. (WASHINGTON HERALD)

There are men, honorable and deserving Republicans and good citizens of Indiana, who are contesting the nomination for senator against James E. Watson, which is their right and privilege. There are many thousands of Indiana Republicans who prefer that some friend among other aspirants should be placed on the ticket for senator. In this they are but exercising their proper claim to use their individual judgment as to the advisability of candidates. But the men who are inveighing against Watson, abusing him personally and threatening the party if he is nominated are not interested in the success of the Republican party.

We are authorized to announce the name of Charles C. Brown as a candidate for Sheriff on the Democratic ticket, subject to the decision of the primary election, March 7, 1916.

I will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress before the Primary, March 7th, and as the duties of my office and attention to important measures before Congress will prevent my returning to my District, I take this means to ask the voters for their support.

"The Most Immoral Speech That Has Been Heard in the United States Since the Civil War"

is the way the Philadelphia Record (Dem.) refers to Senator Root's key-note speech, while on the other hand the New York Evening Mail (Rep.) characterizes it as an utterance combining "the vision of true statesmanship, the virility of stern patriotism, and the convincing force of cold, unescapable logic."

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for February 26th, there is a complete summary of newspaper opinion which reflects all shades of political conviction upon Senator Root's speech. No political utterance in a long time has created so much thought and discussion.

There are many other features in this number of the "Digest" to interest the American public.

JEREMIAH SULLIVAN (5)
1794—1869

At no time in the history of Indiana has the Supreme Court been held in higher esteem than when its membership consisted of that trio of judges—Isaac Blackford, Jeremiah Sullivan, and Charles Dewey. Of the three, Sullivan was perhaps the ablest judicial writer. He was born in Virginia, 1794, and educated for the Catholic priesthood, but he later deserted the Catholic faith, entered the practice of law, and became an elder in the Presbyterian church. He settled in Madison, Ind., in 1817, and three years later was a member of the legislature. To him credit is given for selecting the name "Indianapolis" for the capital of Indiana.

His greatest honor was won while on the supreme bench, 1837—1864. His written decisions, many of which are contained in Blackford's Reports, are models of legal composition. Judge Sullivan revered the court-room as a temple of justice, "second only to the church of God." Death came upon him suddenly in December, 1869, the day set for the opening of the Criminal Court in Madison of which he had just been elected judge.

Andrew Wylie, who for a quarter of a century was one of the foremost educators of the west, "if not the strongest man west of the mountain," was born in Washington county, Penn., On April 12, 1789. After completing a theological course, he entered the Presbyterian ministry. When only twenty-three years of age, this strapping of a youth was elected president of Jefferson college, from which he had graduated two years earlier. He occupied this position during one unsuccessful effort to unite Jefferson with Washington college, only seven miles distant. In 1828 he was elected president of Indiana University, then only a small college. This position he held for more than twenty years.

Dr. Wylie is remembered as a giant, both in intellect and stature. Throughout his entire life he engaged in vigorous exercise for three hours daily, to which he attributed his strong physique. As teacher of philosophy his desire was to teach students to think. Late in life he became an Episcopalian and was ordained priest by Bishop Kemper in 1841.

Act Now—For Your Own Protection

THIS is the year of all years when it will pay you to place an order for your Paige "Six-46" just as early as possible.

In the first place, there is every indication that the "sold out" condition of last year will be repeated.

Thousands of people have been watching the performance of this great car—studying the experience of owners—convincing themselves that the "Fairfield" model is first choice in the field of light Sixes.

Then, too, there is the possibility that you may have to pay more for your "Six-46" if you wait too long.

It is a matter of public knowledge that the costs of all manufacturing materials and labor have increased tremendously during the past year—and the quotations are still climbing.

Of one thing you may be certain—you will never be able to buy a Paige "Six-46" for less than $1295 during the next twelve months.

We guarantee this, but we will not undertake to guarantee against an advance.

So—for your own protection—now is the time to act. Don't wait until it is too late. Don't put yourself in the position where it will be necessary to compromise on a "second choice".

winner of the Rushville—Greensburg team tonight in the final. Milroy and Shelbyville stood a chance of playing only 2 games, while the other winner must win three.

With Rushville walking away with Carthage, local fans were pulling hard for a victory over Greensburg in the game at three o'clock. Rushville must win this game to keep in the running, and as both teams expected to reach the final a real fight was expected.

A large crowd was on hand for the opening game. The Rushville rooters were well organized and kept things lively throughout the contest. The showing of the Rush-

ville team against Carthage was nothing to brag over. The team was confident of a victory, but did not figure on the fight that Carthage developed. For this reason the Rushville team took things easy in order to save up for the final struggles.

Carthage Downed.

Carthage scored first on a foul goal, but a minute later Stoops came across with a field goal and from then on Rushville was never headed. The score in the first half was close all the way and the half ended 12 to 8 in favor of Rushville.

The second half was a repetition of the first, except that Rushville played better ball and Carthage could not stand the pace. Caron and Stoops were the stars in the final period. At times the game was very rough. Winslow was disqualified by committing three personal fouls. Almost every member of the Rushville team had as many as two fouls, but escaped the penalty.

The Rushville team had trouble

locating the basket. Many shots went wide of the mark, and the team played good ball only in spots. The Rushville team came out of the contest in good shape and was confident of winning from Greensburg.

Connersville Loses.

In the Greensburg-Connersville game the Greensburg five outclassed the Fayette county team and held the lead from the very start. G. Turner, the tall center of the Greensburg team, was the star of the game. He made a total of 16 points for his team and was as good on the defensive as on the offensive. Halter and Gregg for Connersville played the best game but Greensburg showed to advantage on the big floor and soon had all the fight taken out of Connersville. Up to noon the games had gone according to expectations. Little was expected of Connersville and the promise was fulfilled.

MANILLA WINS TWO

Manilla teams were victorious in both games of basketball played at Manilla last night. The high school defeated the Arlington high school, 31 to 20, in the first contest, and in the second the Manilla Independents won from the Rushville Tigers, 82 to 16. Marlatt refereed the second game and Hillgoss the first.

Charles Bennett and Ralph Wagoner were arraigned before Mayor Bebout on assault and battery charges today and both pleaded not guilty. Their trials were set for Thursday, March 2. Wagoner gave bond and Bennett went to jail.

DRINK HOT WATER IF YOU DESIRE A ROSY COMPLEXION

Says we can't help but look better and feel better after an inside bath.

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washings the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Men and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphate hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

PENNY SUPPER.

One of the most successful Penny Suppers ever given at the St. Paul's M. E. church here was the one last evening when the ladies of the second division of the Aid Society were hostesses and proved their success in the culinary arts by the goodly sum of seventy dollars and over which they took in. An excellent supper was served.

SUPPER PARTY.

A merry crowd of ladies formed a party last evening and dined together at the Penny Supper. Their round of pleasure was completed with a visit to the moving picture theatre. In this amiable group were Mrs. Charles Brown, Mrs. Will Trennepohl, Mrs. Fred Brown, Mrs. Noley Newkirk, Mrs. Ollie Brown, Mrs. Frank Flint, Mrs. George Snell, Mrs. Willard Brown and Miss Florence Smiley.

BRIDGE CLUB.

Among the players was Mrs. George Dehority of Elwood.

PITCH-IN SUPPER.

With their usual life and jollity the crowd of girls in the T. O. G. Club enjoyed a pitch-in supper last evening at the home of Miss Margaret Ball. For the pleasant group that gathered about the table had been decorated with an artistic basket of fruit. An elaborate three-course dinner was served thanks to the aid of each guest. The party was brought to a close with a visit to the "movie." Enjoying this evening of social delight were the Misses Catherine Wooden, Kathryn Guffin, Dorothy Mulno, Helen Frazee Dorothy Sparks, Lois Reeves and her guest, Miss Fae Youll of Indianapolis, Katherine Wyatt, and Dorothy Frazee.

ROOK PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Daubenspeck entertained with a Rook party at their hospitable home northeast of the city on Tuesday evening. Being also their fifth wedding anniversary, the occasion was one of unusual jollity. Aside from the usual pleasure caused from Rook, games, contests and music helped make the evening one of unusual delight. Dainty refreshments were served to the guests who included Mr. and Mrs. Lige Billings, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jarrett and son, Charlie, Mr. and Mrs. William Hinchman, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hunt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. George Austin and daughter,

SURPRISE PARTY.

A most pleasurable surprise was tendered Glen Boer last evening at his home in Raleigh, when honoring his eighteenth birthday, a merry crowd of young people assembled at his home, in response to the invitations issued by his mother, without his knowledge of it. The plans were so well carried out that the whole crowd of thirty-five were in the house before he was aware of the affair. Among the amusements of the evening, an automobile contest was one of the cleverest. When the names of popular machines were guessed from sentences. A number of other games also helped to make the evening a jolly one. Names for partners for supper were drawn and the guests were escorted into the dining room where supper was daintily served. With a color scheme of pink and white, the whole home was prettily decorated. Pink and white carnations, several bouquets of them, gave the rooms an airy and home-like effect.

CHICKEN SUPPER.

One of the most interesting and successful lodge events of the winter was the meeting held at the I. O. O. F. Hall last evening when the Rebekahs entertained about two hundred and seventy-five guests at a hot chicken supper. The tables were beautiful, the decorations being potted plants bright with blossoms. Those in attendance from out of the city were Capitol Lodge number 250 and Olive Branch number 10 of Indianapolis, Arlinton, Greensburg, Shelbyville, Blue Ridge, Homer and Milroy. The Arlington visitors included Mrs. Bert Leisure, Mr. and Mrs. James Alsmann, Mrs. William Mann, Mrs. Noah Price, Mrs. Mable Gardner, Miss Goldie Henby, Miss Sue Woods, Mrs. Hannah Havens, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Innis, Miss Nellie Lawrence, Mrs. Stella Davis, Miss Mary Wodos, Miss Nina Seward, Miss Viva Seward, Frank Lawrence, J. The marriage of Miss Sallie Logan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Logan, and Lowell C. Vickery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erban Vickery, took place at the home of the bride's parents in Union township at seven-thirty o'clock Wednesday evening. Mrs. Ross Logan played "Angel Voices Ever Near" while the guests gathered in the parlor before the ceremony. Mrs. Minor Bell sang "Oh, Perfect Love," and then the Lohengrin Wedding March was played by Mrs. Ross Logan, while the couple, accompanied by the Rev. G. F. Powers, appeared. The couple stood in front of an arch, decorated in white and pink crepe paper, white and pink carnations, smilax, and large potted ferns formed the background of the arch. The ceremony performed, Mrs. Minor Bell sang, "O, Promise Me," while the young couple were receiving congratulations. The bride was attired in white organdie over net, and carried an arm bouquet of white roses. After congratulations were over the guests proceeded to the beautifully decorated dining room, where a bountiful three course supper was served.

The house was beautifully decorated in the wedding colors, white and pink. Mrs. Minor Bell and Mrs. Ross Logan furnished several musical numbers during the evening.

Thin Girls, Cut This Out

Some unfortunate men and women are prone to wonder why some of their friends are blessed with an abundance of color—pink cheeks and red lips—while theirs are always colorless. The reason for this last named condition is—there is not enough red blood corpuscle in the blood—under a microscope the blood is thin and watery. The flesh is flabby, too. Well-known physicians assert that the regular administration for several months, of 5 grain toniline tablets will greatly improve the color, add to the weight, make the cheeks pink and the lips red and in general be very beneficial. For self administration obtain from any druggist. For sale by Hargrove and Mullin. (Advertisement)

The Supreme Musical Event of the Season

Arrangements have been perfected by which the New York Metropolitan Company will be brought to Rushville. If a sufficient response can be secured from the public in general the company will come here March 10th under the auspices of the K. K. K., they having arranged for the concert.

This will be one of the biggest musical events ever given in Rushville. A representative of the Bureau which presents this company of artists is here, and together with the local organization will endeavor to make a success by making this a subscription concert. Of this company, Vladimir Neveloff, the New York manager, says:

"In presenting Skovgaard, the Danish Violinist, and the New York Metropolitan Company, to the concert going public of this country, I feel confident that I am offering a most attractive and remarkable attraction of great variety. It is a combination of Grand Opera Singers and concert performers, each one being a star and well known to the public. They will not only sing the arias and operatic duets with which they have won their fame, but when you have heard Molly Byerly Wilson sing: "Oh Dry Those Tears," you will know there is more than one Schumann-Heink in existence. Florence Hawkins'

bird-like voice will enchant you; Clara Freuler's marvelously true and human interpretation of the beautiful Swiss folk song will captivate you; and Francis W. Cowles? Yes, he will sing: "Danny Deever." Skovgaard will, with his $50,000.00 hand, on his $13,000.00 violin, carry you back to the days of Ole Bull; and the pianist, Alice McClung, will charm you, not only through her splendid accompaniments, but when she plays Liszt, you cannot fail to recognize that you are listening to one of the most brilliant pianists of today."

"The entertainment given by this remarkable company of instrumental artists and Grand Opera Singers is after the style of the popular Sunday concerts held in the Metropolitan Opera House, New York City. Greatest variety in music—Arias from your favorite operas in the beautiful original costumes—Folk songs in national costume—The famous sextette from "Lucia" and the "Barcarolle" from "The Tales of Hoffman," Classical music—Chamber music—Popular music—In fact an entertainment for everybody."

You will be solicited for tickets. Help make this extraordinary musical event the success it should be, by subscribing for seats.

Chronic Diseases.

Offer Services Free of Charge

The United Doctors Specialist licensed by the State of Indiana, for the treatment of all diseases including deformities, nervous and chronic diseases of men, women and children, offer to all who call on this trip, consultation, examination, advice free, making no charge whatever, except the actual cost of treatment. All that is asked in return for these valuable services is that every person treated will state the result obtained to their friends and thus prove to the sick and afflicted in every city and locality, that at last treatments have been discovered that are reasonably sure and certain in their effect.

The United Doctors are experts in the treatment of chronic diseases and so great and wonderful have been their results that in many cases it is hard to find the dividing line between skill and miracle.

Diseases of the stomach, intestines, liver, blood, skin, nerves, heart, pleen, rheumatism, sciatic, tape-worm, leg ulcers, weak lungs and those afflicted with long-standing, deep seated, chronic diseases, that have baffled the skill of the family physicians, should not fail to call. Deafness often has been cured in sixty days.

According to their system no more operations for appendicitis, gall stones, tumors, goiter, piles, etc., as all cases accepted will be treated without operation or hypodermic injection, as they were among the first in America to earn the name of "Bloodless Surgeons," by doing away with the knife with blood and with all pain in the successful treatment of these dangerous diseases.

No matter what your ailment may be, no matter what others may have told you, no matter what experience you may have had with other physicians, it will be to your advantage to see them at once. Have it forever settled in your mind. If your case is incurable they will give you such advice as may relieve and stay the disease. Do not put off this duty you owe yourself or friends or relatives who are suffering because of your sickness, as a visit at this time may help you.

Worn-out and run-down men or women, no matter what your ailment may be, call, it costs you nothing.

Remember, this free offer is for this visit only.

ver P. Morton to pour oil on troubled waters because an enrolling officer had shortly before that been killed. Although Hendricks was a Democrat, he counseled obedience to the law but at the same time urged adherence to Democratic principles.

Judge Comstock also recited another circumstance in his life where he refused what was virtually a public office. By virtue of his service in gathering recruits, he was entitled to the commission as second lieutenant. A school teacher at Cadiz who had been urged to enlist by Judge Comstock told the judge he did not feel that he could go to war and support his family on $13 a month, a private's pay. In order to make it possible to the school teacher to become a soldier, Judge Comstock said he relinquished his claim on the place of second lieutenant and gave it to the Cadiz man.

"It is charged against me that I am old and have held office long enough," said Judge Comstock near the close of his speech when he discussed his candidacy. "I may answer to the crime of being old and of having held public but I shall not attempt to extenuate nor to deny. The offices with which I have been honored have come to me by the votes of the people. I discharged their duties as best I could and in a manner, so far as I know, to escape public criticism.

"One of the offices I was chosen to fill was in Henry county, not a lucrative one, prosecuting attorney of the common pleas court, with a salary of $200 a year. I resigned to enter the army.

"On the careless front and brow of youth ever rests hope, sometimes folly, never experience. Youth is a blessing—not a merit. Age often is due to the self-denial which makes one strong, to the submission of ill fortune without repinings. The woes that weight on age are loss of health and loss of friends. When life is in the yellow leaf, its fruits may still remain. Age brings experience, the pleasures of memory, the recollections of devotion of friends, and sometimes of deeds that ennoble and deeds that justify pride, if human pride is ever justified.

"I am old enough to have taken part, a very humble one, in the war of the rebellion. I served successively as private, corporal, sergeant and commissioned officers. I saw the colors we love so well rise and fall as the tide of battle ebbed and flowed. And once on a bleak December day when the air was laden with leaden hail, I saw them and the gallant Indiana soldier who bore them fall. The colors rose again. It was my privilege under a heavy firing to help a wounded comrade from the field. Until he passed away I was assured of his grateful affection. I hope I may be pardoned for this personal allusion. With my home folks I may take a liberty. Were I today offered youth with its sweet enchantments in exchange for the facts and memories of my having done what I could to preserve the integrity of the States. I would not accept the offer. I hold that to fight for one's country is a just cause."

Judge Comstock gave a brief synopsis of the tariff legislation in this country, showing that the Republican party had never been one of obstruction, but that, on the contrary, it had always legislated to foster commerce, manufacturing and declaring under its guidance the nation had always prospered and made its greatest strides. He dwelt for a time on the sectionalism of the Democratic party and recalled that its numerical strength was in the south.

Referring to war "prosperity," he said, in part:

"The prosperity the country now enjoys and for which the Democratic party will claim credit is largely due to the awful war waged across the ocean, to the waste and destruction of property incident to the war.

"Hundreds of thousands of horses have been purchased in this country to fall with their riders on the bloody fields of France and Belgium. The prosperity which has swollen the fortunes of brokers and holders of stocks, now known as munition stocks, representing the properties and equipments necessary in war.

"It is not based upon the wise administration of economic affairs nor the policy of any political party. Such prosperity is nourished by the blood of fathers and husbands and sons, and watered by the tears of women and children.

"Let us hope that the cause of this prosperity having its origin in the madriot of war may soon end. That end, to be sure, cannot restore the slain husband or son, nor rebuild from their ashed destroyed homes, yet it may stay the unavailing tears of many a widowed mother. Humanity is shocked in contemplation of the outrages and sufferings endured by innocent, helpless women and children, and we can only hope that the Almighty in his own way may sometime lay his chastening hand upon the cruel cause of such immeasurable woes. And yet for these conditions which we must so deeply deplore, conditions which have been called 'blood-soaked boom times,' we would be in the midst of a panic surpassing the panics of former years."

Vote for "33" Ezekiel M. Jones (better known as "Zeke") a Republican Candidate for Sheriff, from Ripley Township, Rush County, at Primary March 7, 1916.

I have found it absolutely impossible to see all of the voters before the Primary to solicit their support for my candidacy for Republican nomination for Sheriff of Rush County, but I desire to say that I have always been a loyal, staunch and true blue Republican. I live in Ripley Township now and cast my first vote in Rush County for James G. Blaine. I nor any of my immediate family have never held nor asked for any public office nor have I been the nominee for any except that I was a candidate in 1912 for Sheriff of Rush County and withdrew on the fourth ballot in the county delegate convention, and went out and worked my best for the ticket, as I always have done.

FOR REFERENCE to my Republicanism or qualifications for this office I refer you to any business man or bank in Rush county.

I CAN BE ELECTED IF NOMINATED.

My number on ballot will be 33 on all ballots

I thank you in advance for your support, Yours Very Truly,

Ezekiel M. Jones

CHAPLIN'S SUCCESS REAL WHEN HE DIRECTED HIS OWN COMEDIES.

He Happened on to a Pair of Shoes and His Mustache is But a Shadow of its Former Self—A Subtle Comedian.

He never made a real success, however, until Mack Sennett let him direct his own comedies. Sennett is a very keen judge of character, and he saw that if anything was to be had out of Chaplin, it must be had in Chaplin's own way. He reconstructed the organization to enable Chaplin to direct his own comedies.

Sennett's decision brought into being the quaint character with the little stubby mustache, the big shoes and the cane that is known wherever motion pictures are shown.

Chaplin's first picture with the Keystone company was a little comedy sketch called, "A Film Johny." It was taken at the first cycle car races given in southern California. Chaplin had the part of a picture fan who was always wandering out in front of the cameras that were trained on the race. His part was merely intended to "carry" the motion pictures of a race.

A good many of Chaplin's earliest pictures with the Keystone were of this character; he was used to put in incidental business in big news events. In one news picture taken at San Pedro Harbor, for instance, he was assigned the part of a roughneck woman who was very severe with her husband.

Introduces New Note.

As a director, Chaplin introduced a new note into moving pictures. Theretofore most of the comedy effects had been riotous boisterousness. Chaplin, like many foreign pantomimists, got his effects in a more subtle way and with less action. Also he worked alone to a greater extent than any other picture comedian.

By making the most of the little subtle effects, Chaplin enlarged the field of all motion-picture comedies. It goes without saying that the simpler effects a man needs for his fun-making the more effects he has to draw on. One of the very funniest situations, for instance, in any of the Chaplin comedies was in "His Trysting Place," where Chaplin used the whiskers of a guest in a cafe for a napkin.

About That Make-Up.

The question that nearly everyone asks about Charlie Chaplin's early career is: "Where did he get that make-up? Those shoes and that hat?"

The general impression is that Chaplin worked with this same outfit from the beginning of his picture work, but this is not true. In his first pictures for the Keystone, Chaplin wore a long, drooping mustache and a top hat. He wore ordinary shoes. In almost his first pictures, however, he began wearing the amazing "pants" that still adorn him.

His first costume didn't suit him at all. The Keystone people say he was always poking around the property room trying to hit upon some sort of clothes that would "register." One day he came out grinning, with a funny old pair of shoes in his hands. They were long and curled up at the toes. They reached right out and shook hands with Chaplin as soon as he saw them. They had been Ford Sterling's and had been left behind when Sterling quit the company. Chaplin has worn these identical shoes ever since. Then he began trimming off his long, drooping mustache. Every day it grew shorter, until finally it was the little toothbrush that is now so famous. He then substituted a round derby for his top hat, and his costume was complete as it

His costume was not the only difficulty he found in getting adjusted to the movies. To tell the truth, he was miserably unhappy at first, and hated the work in every way. Ford Sterling had just left the company and it was hoped that Chaplin would take his place. They naturally looked to see Chaplin work on the same lines as the comedian they had lost.

Gets Record "Call-Down."

Chaplin, however, worked on entirely different methods. Sterling worked very rapidly, dashing hither and thither at top speed. Chaplin's comedy was slow and deliberate, and he made a great deal out of little things—little subtleties. They tried to force him to take up the Ford Sterling style and Chaplin refused. That is to say, he wouldn't. He just listened to what they had to say, then did it in his own way.

The next result was a very sultry time. Chaplin's first director was Pathe Lerhmann. They quarreled all the time during the first of Chaplin's work. Mabel Normand and Chaplin fought like a black dog and a monkey. Lerhmann finally appealed to Mack Sennett; he said he couldn't do anything with Chaplin. The Keystone people say that the hardest "call-down" anybody ever got at the Keystone was that handed to Chaplin by Sennett because he refused to obey the director. Chaplin took the boss' breezy remarks as toasts to the president are drunk—standing and in silence. But he went right on acting in his own way. Finally Lerhmann passed him on to another director, who had an equally bad time with him.

The Keystone people came to the conclusion that they had picked a fine lemon in Chaplin. Personally he was very popular, but it was generally agreed that he would never make good as a picture actor.

How He "Happened."

Finally, Mack Sennett took a hand at directing Chaplin himself. They were then putting on a play called "Mabel's Strange Predicament." Chaplin had a small part where he did some funny business in the lobby of a hotel. Mack Sennett decided to see just what this Englishman would do if they let him have his own way. He turned the misfit loose and let him be funny as he liked.

Then and there Charlie Chaplin suddenly "happened."

Mack Sennett saw in a flash that some big stuff was going over, and from that minute Chaplin became a real star.

Sennett, during the next few pictures, put in Chaplin to do little comedy bits that called for the same kind of stuff he showed in the lobby of the hotel. Chaplin was always funny in these bits, but Sennett saw that, to be entirely successful, he must have a company of his own. The other actors' work was out of tune with the Chaplin method. Sennett was quick to see that almost immeasurable things could be gotten out of Chaplin, but he also saw that the Chaplin pictures must, in the future, be built with Chaplin as the foundation. The whole comedy must be adjusted to his tempo, and even the scenario would have to be different from the kind of scenario ordinarily used by the Keystone people. It must be slower and more subtle.

FRENCH ARE DRIVEN BACK STILL FARTHER

War Office Statement is Vague, But Admits Armies Have Taken up New Positions Today.

FIGHTING NORTH OF VERDUN

Paris, Feb. 26.—French forces, resisting heroically the German assault, have taken up new positions today back by the Meuse hills the war office announced this afternoon.

"The battle north of Verdun is continuing," said official statement. "According to the last information the French troops are resisting the Germans without counting the sacrifices. French artillery is replying shell for shell to the German fire."

The French official statement, very vague, carries no confirmation of German reports of the capture of Douaumont. At the same time the statement that the French have taken up new positions indicates that the French forces have been compelled to retreat still farther.

GERMANS TAKE OUTER FORT

Douaumont, Four Miles From Verdun, Captured From French.

Berlin, (Via London), Feb. 26.—The strong fortress of Douaumont, one of the fortified positions of Verdun, was captured by the Germans yesterday, the war office announced today.

Douaumont lies four miles north-east of the outskirts of Verdun. Its capture is the first break in the line of Verdun forts and indicates the French have been driven back from the strongly fortified heights from the north and are being hurled back still farther.

YOUTH BLESSING BUT NOT A MERIT

Age Brings Experience, Says Judge
Comstock, Answering Opponents
in Congressional Race.

Refers to Candidacy Briefly, Devoting
Most of Time to Discussion
of Political Issues.

Declaring that youth is a blessing but not a merit and that age brings experience, the pleasures of memory and the recollection of devotion of friends, Judge Daniel W. Comstock of Richmond, candidate for the Republican congressional nomination, in his formal speech here, took that method of replying to his opponents.

Judge Comstock was greeted by a good-sized audience. Judge Will M. Sparks introduced him briefly, commenting on his long connection with the Republican party and his honorable service in the war.

Judge Comstock apologized for his personal references, but explained that the primary made two campaigns instead of one necessary, and that since all at the meeting were agreed as to the correctness of the policies of the Republican party, it behooved him to dwell briefly on his own career because he was offering himself as a candidate for congress.

Judge Comstock made a finished and highly interesting speech. He criticized the Democratic party on its preparedness and tariff issues and pointed to the present day prosperity that is "nourished and fostered by the blood of fathers, husbands and sons and watered by the tears of women and children."

He referred to his record in public office in answer to the charge that he is not only too old, but has held office too much already. He recalled that he had been elected prosecutor, judge of the circuit court in Wayne county twice, and once to the state appellate court, honestly and fairly, and had never been appointed to any office. Judge Comstock said he had never been accused of not executing the duties of the offices he had held honestly and fairly.

Judge Comstock recalled some early Rush county history when he enumerated briefly the early history of his life. He was elected prosecutor of the common pleas court at Newcastle and Rush county was in his jurisdiction. He resigned the office to enlist in the war and came to Rushville on a certain Saturday to draw his salary due from Rush county—$40 a year. The office paid $200 a year. Judge Comstock remembered that on that day Governor Hendricks was here, at the instigation of the then governor. Off-

Administrations Are in Majority
Concerning Warning Resolu-
tion, Lewis Reports.

RESOLUTIONS WILL COME UP

Secretary Lansing and Chairman
Flood Discuss Possibility of
a Compromise.

HERE'S 16 TO 1 AGAIN.

Washington, Feb. 26.—Attaches at the white house to-
day estimated the telegrams
received supporting President
Wilson in his stand on armed
mercenaries are about sixteen
to one against asking that Americans be warned off
armed ships as advocated by Bryan.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Feb. 25.—Assurance
that the senators endorsing President Wilson's stand against warning
Americans to stay off armed liners
are in the majority was given this
afternoon by Senator Lewis, Democratic "whip" of the senate.

After canvassing each senator,
Lewis reported to Chairman Stone
that opposition to the president
could not prevail. He recommended
that the Gore and Jones resolutions
be allowed to come to a vote as soon
as the authors desired.

Senator Lewis also prepared a
resolution which he expects to introduce Monday endorsing the president's stand.

One of the allies, probably France,
has replied to the suggestion from
the United States that merchant vessels be disarmed as a measure of
humanity.

What the answer is and from
which of the allies it comes was not
officially made known, but the state
department made clear today that it
will have no effect on the present
difficulties with Germany. Department officials were surprised that one of
the allies answered alone, a joint
reply having been expected.

Germany will not be asked to de-
lay the putting into effect of her de-
cree that armed vessels be sunk
without warning beginning March 1.
It is not expected that Germany will
postpone the date without being
asked to do so.

In the meantime Washington exhibited less excitement than it had for several days. This was largely due
to restrictive measures adopted by
administration leaders in congress.
Discussion of the issue was kept
from the floor of both houses.

Neither Secretary Lansing or
Chairman Flood of the foreign relations committee who conferred at
some length on the possibility of a
compromise resolution of warning
which Flood wished to offer in the
house, would comment following
their conference.

MONDAY WILL BE A VERY BUSY DAY

Road and Bridges Will be Topic
When Two Boards of Commissions and Council Meet.

First Street Petition and Falmouth-
Glenwood Road Will Both be Considered.

With the county commissioners of Rush and Fayette county in joint-
session and the county council
meeting, Monday promises to be a busy day at the court house. Roads
will be the main topic under consideration by the county commissioners
and the council will be occupied
with bridge problems.

The county council was called to
make a few appropriations covering
some deficiencies in some bridge
funds. It is also likely that the
commissioners may make an appropriation for the building of the big
bridge over Blue river, near Carthage,
which was damaged in the recent flood. This bridge is a county
line bridge and will have to be constructed by Rush and Hancock
counties.

The council was called for the
express purpose of considering this
bridge, but the funds for some other
bridges are low and more money
will be needed. Some have estimated that the Blue River bridge will cost about $12,000 or $15,000. It
will be necessary for Rush county
to appropriate all of the money for
the cost and pay for the bridge, and
then Hancock county will reimburse
this county. The council will not
likely take any definite action on
this bridge until a more accurate estimate is secured.

The county commissioners' attention at this meeting will be taken up
with roads. This is the time for considering the petition for the paying of First street under the three-
mile road law. The petition has been on file and the next step, if the
commissioners look favorably on the
proposed improvement, is the appointment of viewers. There is some talk among the petitioners of modifying the petition and not taking the
improvement so far out in the county as is now called for.

The petitioners believe that the
road should end about a quarter of
a mile west of the Big Four tracks
and not at the Will L. King corner
as is called for in the original petition. The main reason for this, it
is stated, is because they believe it
will be hard to find a set of viewers,
who will act favorably on the west end of the road as it is now in the condition.

The Fayette county commissioners are called here to sit with the Rush county board to consider the
petition for the road improvement
between Glenwood and Falmouth.
The road will be about five miles
long and the petition asks for a
gravel road. It is believed there
will be little or no opposition to this
improvement, as the two townships
involved can stand the expense
without being bonded to the four
per cent. limit.

ASSESSORS TALK OVERWORK TODAY

Township Officials Meet Today to Receive Instructions and Agree
on Assessments.

INSTRUCTIONS FROM BOARD

Basis For Personal Property and Additional Improvements to
Real Estate Fixed.

The township assessors met with
Henry W. Schrader, county assessor,
today, at his office in the court
house and discussed their work,
which will begin next Wednesday
and continue for seventy-five days.
The assessors considered the instructions of the state board of tax
commissioners received this week.

Although the law says the assess-
ors shall not take out their supplies
until the day they begin work, it is
generally the custom for them to get
supplies when they hold their final
meeting with the county assessor to
avoid another trip to the county
seat.

A few days ago the county assessor received a letter from the
state board of tax commissioners
asking him to instruct assessors to
take personal property at its true
value and deduct twenty-five percent. for purposes of equalization.
These instructions will no doubt be
followed here.

The assessors and their deputies
have seventy-five days in which to
list the property in the county, the
statute fixing the period from March 1 to May 15. It is the intention of
all the assessors to get the work
started immediately after the meeting next Wednesday.

That the total valuation of personal property for 1916 will considerably exceed that of 1915 is the
opinion of practically all men who
have to do with the listing of taxables. They point out that the last year has been a much more prosperous one for this community than
was the preceding year, and that it
will necessarily follow that the volume of personal property will be
found to have increased. It is said
that the single item of automobiles
will considerably boost the total
valuation. It is claimed that there
are a third more automobiles owned
in Rush county now than a year
ago. This assertion is based on the fact that all automobile agencies
operating in the county had a much
heavier business within the last year
than they had before in any year
since the automobile industry had
its beginning.

As to whether the volume of farm
animals is as great now as it was a
year ago, is a question. It is not
improbable that both horses and
cattle are fewer, but is thought that the number of hogs, sheep and poultry will be found to be approximately the same. In some townships the number of hogs will be less, owing
to the scourge of cholera which was
visited upon certain neighborhoods
in them.

BABY DIES FROM BURNS.

The two-year-old child of Mr. and
Mrs. Wilbur Taylor died last night
from the effects of burns it sustained five weeks ago. The funeral will be held at the house at ten o'clock
Sunday morning.

BROTHER IS IMPROVING.

Mrs. Lida Ryker has just returned from Indianapolis where she was
called Tuesday on account of the
injury of her brother, Charles E.
Imel, at the Fairmount Glass works
in Indianapolis. He was caught in
the belts and severely hurt, but is
now confined in the Methodist hospital and is improving.

HIGH SCHOOL ENTERTAINS GUESTS AT TOURNAMENT

Extensive preparations were
made by the high school students in
preparation for the tournament to-
day, when they welcomed the dele-

where news of the games and direc-

be obtained. The domestic science
rooms were converted into a girl's

RUSHVILLE HAD A CHANCE

Whether Locals Would Play Tonight Depended on Game With Greensburg Starting at 3:15.

BULLETIN.

The first half of the semi-final
looked like a walkaway for Rush-
ville and made it almost certain the
locals would play in the final tonight. The score at the opening of the second half was 17 to 6 in favor of Rushville.

With three teams still in the running, two of which will fight it out in
the final tonight, the semi-final in
the basketball tournament of the Eastern Indiana High School Athletic association began at 3:15 o'clock
this afternoon at the Graham Annex gym. Shelbyville team will play
either Greensburg or Rushville to-
night for the championship, depending upon who would win the three
o'clock game.

Rushville, Shelbyville and Greens-
burg were still contenders when the
semi-final opened. Rushville met Greensburg in Rushville's second
game of the day. If Rushville lasts,
they will have played three games
when the final is finished tonight.
The odds were a little in favor of Rushville because Rushville has defeated Greensburg on the local floor
by a safe margin. Greensburg played
a game this morning so that neither team had the bulge in that
respect.

Milroy was put out of the running
in one game, when they lost to the Shelbyville quintet, 43 to 19, in the
game starting at two o'clock. The first half ended 18 to 13 in favor of Shelbyville. Milroy only making six
points the last half.

Rushville opened the East Central Indiana Athletic association
tournament here this morning with
a victory over the Carthage team,
24 to 16. Carthage was eliminated
after a hard fight.

Following the opening game,
Greensburg defeated Connersville 35
to 15. Both were pretty games and
from all appearances the best teams
won in each contest. Rushville was
unfortunate in the drawing of positions as the team will be forced to
play three games to win the tournament. Milroy and Shelbyville were
the two lucky teams. These two
teams played at two o'clock this afternoon and the winner will meet the

P. J. Lynch Stands Well at Home

A man's friends and neighbors know him best and their opinion may always be relied upon. The candidate who stands well at home is bound to make a good public servant. On the contrary a candidate that does not possess the confidence of his neighbors is impossible as a candidate for public place.

Patrick J. Lynch of Newcastle, whom the Republicans of the great Sixth District of Indiana will name as their candidate for congress at the primary election on March 7th is known in his home County of Henry as a man of the highest probity, and honor, without a blemish upon his character, foremost in every civic improvement, the head of a great business enterprise and as a clean, able man of more than ordinary talents he possesses the confidence of his neighbors in all walks of life.

Mr. Lynch's friends and neighbors in Henry County—the men with whom he mingles and does business—recently assembled in a great mass convention in the city of Newcastle and there heartily endorsed the candidacy of Mr. Lynch and commended him in the strongest possible language to the Republicans of the Sixth District.

This is the answer of his neighbors and friends as to Mr. Lynch's popularity in his own home county:

We, the Republicans of Henry County, in mass convention recognize in Patrick J. Lynch an able and enthusiastic advocate of the Republican Party, an honorable citizen of Henry County and a fit and proper person to represent the Sixth Congressional District in the Congress of the United States, and therefore we recommend his candidacy for that office.

In addition to this the Republican County Committee of Henry County, the governing body of that party in that county, passed resolutions heartily endorsing the candidacy of Mr. Lynch as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress.

Mr. Lynch when a candidate for Congress in 1914 in the District received more votes than the head of the ticket, Hugh T. Miller.

As a campaigner it is generally conceded that Mr. Lynch has not a peer in the State of Indiana. In this present campaign for nomination he will have made when finished over one hundred speeches, visiting every nook and corner of the district.

Predictions are freely made by close observers that he will carry every county in the district by an overwhelming majority, including Wayne county.

The Republican party in this district in the forthcoming campaign needs a vigorous, able campaigner and as a business man standing for the protective tariff, merchant marine and reasonable national defense, Mr. Lynch with his experience, wide acquaintance in the district and his ability as a public speaker can bring victory to the party. With a divided party in 1914 he was almost successful—with a united party in 1916 when nominated he will carry the district by five thousand majority.

Candidacy of Judge Daniel W. Comstock Endorsed by Republicans of Wayne Co.

Be it resolved by the Republicans of Wayne county, Indiana, in convention assembled, that the Sixth Congressional District of Indiana should and must be redeemed from Democracy. To that end, we recognize that it is necessary that this county be carried by a re-united Republican party and thus give to said party its old time majority.

Be it further resolved that in the Hon. Daniel W. Comstock we recognize the man who can and will restore the harmony that is necessary to the success of the party. He is a man of high mental and moral attainments. He has served his country patriotically as a soldier in the Civil war; his state and county, as a legislator and a jurist of dignity and learning. There is no blot upon his character, private or public. There is no clique nor faction against him other than the Democratic party. His learning, legislative experience and legal attainments will at once give him recognition and high standing in the house of representatives. His record as a public official is such as to commend him to the people's cause in matters of national legislation.

Therefore, we, the Republicans of Wayne county, do hereby most heartily indorse the candidacy of the Hon. Daniel W. Comstock for representative in congress from this district and earnestly ask the other counties of the district to give us their aid in securing his nomination. We pledge them an old fashioned Republican majority in Wayne county if he is nominated.

Republican Candidate from Orange Township for Commissioner Southern District of Rush County, Primary

As it is impossible for me to see everyone personally I take this method of introducing myself to the voters of Rush County, Indiana. I am a farmer, always a staunch and loyal Republican; forty-five years of age, married and with a family. I was trustee for Orange Township for six years, and was elected in 1908. I WAS THE FIRST REPUBLICAN TRUSTEE OF ORANGE TOWNSHIP IN TWENTY YEARS PREVIOUS TO THAT TIME. Said township now has a Democratic Trustee. Have served as administrator for various estates in Rush County. I was Secretary and Treasurer of the Building Committee of the Moscow Christian Church built in 1910, was secretary and treasurer of the Moscow Gas Company for 12 years, and if nominated and elected will give Rush County an economical business administration. I am in favor of good roads and lower taxes.

The American Economist publishes a long list of variations of the expression "take the tariff out of politics," which begins with the New York Evening Sun's amplification, "take the sentiment out of love," and concludes with that of the Economist, "takes the notes out of music." Our humble contribution to the list is, "take the flop out of Woodrow."

The bureau of labor statistics of the U.S. Department of labor presents a very lugubrious report on employment in the "women's ready-to-wear industries." Possibly one reason for this is to be found in the fact that war orders for women's garments are not cutting such a large figure in our export trade.

The American Steel Foundries Company is now running all its plants at full capacity. Total shell orders have been taken in excess of $18,000,000. Democratic prosperity.

It is all right to accuse congress of hunting for pork, but we don't know of a political district in this neck of the woods that won't grab off all the bacon it can get.

Not Friends of G. O. P. (WASHINGTON HERALD)

There are men, honorable and deserving Republicans and good citizens of Indiana, who are contesting the nomination for senator against James E. Watson, which is their right and privilege. There are many thousands of Indiana Republicans who prefer that some friend among other aspirants should be placed on the ticket for senator. In this they are but exercising their proper claim to use their individual judgment as to the advisability of candidates. But the men who are inveighing against Watson, abusing him personally and threatening the party if he is nominated are not interested in the success of the Republican party.

We are authorized to announce the name of Charles C. Brown as a candidate for Sheriff on the Democratic ticket, subject to the decision of the primary election, March 7, 1916.

I will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress before the Primary, March 7th, and as the duties of my office and attention to important measures before Congress will prevent my returning to my District, I take this means to ask the voters for their support.

is the way the Philadelphia Record (Dem.) refers to Senator Root's key-note speech, while on the other hand the New York Evening Mail (Rep.) characterizes it as an utterance combining "the vision of true statesmanship, the virility of stern patriotism, and the convincing force of cold, unescapable logic."

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for February 26th, there is a complete summary of newspaper opinion which reflects all shades of political conviction upon Senator Root's speech. No political utterance in a long time has created so much thought and discussion.

1794—1869

At no time in the history of Indiana has the Supreme Court been held in higher esteem than when its membership consisted of that trio of judges—Isaac Blackford, Jeremiah Sullivan, and Charles Dewey. Of the three, Sullivan was perhaps the ablest judicial writer. He was born in Virginia, 1794, and educated for the Catholic priesthood, but he later deserted the Catholic faith, entered the practice of law, and became an elder in the Presbyterian church. He settled in Madison, Ind., in 1817, and three years later was a member of the legislature. To him credit is given for selecting the name "Indianapolis" for the capital of Indiana.

His greatest honor was won while on the supreme bench, 1835—1864. His written decisions, many of which are contained in Blackford's Reports, are models of legal composition. Judge Sullivan revered the courtroom as a temple of justice, "second only to the church of God." Death came upon him suddenly in December, 1869, the day set for the opening of the Criminal Court in Madison of which he had just been elected judge.

Andrew Wylie, who for a quarter of a century was one of the foremost educators of the west, "if not the strongest man west" of the mountain," was born in Washington county, Penn., On April 12, 1789. After completing a theological course, he entered the Presbyterian ministry. When only twenty-three years of age, this stripling of a youth was elected president of Jefferson college, from which he had graduated two years earlier. He occupied this position during one unsuccessful effort to unite Jefferson with Washington college, only seven miles distant. In 1828 he was elected president of Indiana University, then only a small college. This position he held for more than twenty years.

Dr. Wylie is remembered as a giant, both in intellect and stature. Throughout his entire life he engaged in vigorous exercise for three hours daily, to which he attributed his strong physique. As teacher of philosophy his desire was to teach students to think. Late in life he became an Episcopalian and was ordained priest by Bishop Kemper in 1841.

Act Now—For Your Own Protection

THIS is the year of all years when it will pay you to place an order for your Paige "Six-46" just as early as possible.

In the first place, there is every indication that the "sold out" condition of last year will be repeated.

Thousands of people have been watching the performance of this great car—studying the experience of owners—convincing themselves that the "Fairfield" model is first choice in the field of light Sixes.

Then, too, there is the possibility that you may have to pay more for your "Six-46" if you wait too long.

It is a matter of public knowledge that the costs of all manufacturing materials and

labor have increased tremendously during the past year—and the quotations are still climbing.

(We, of course, have protected ourselves to a great extent by early purchases. But—in the face of a steadily advancing market—we may be obliged to increase prices proportionately.

Of one thing you may be certain—you will never be able to buy a Paige "Six-46" for less than $1295 during the next twelve months.

We guarantee this, but we will not undertake to guarantee against an advance.

So—for your own protection—now is the time to act. Don't wait until it is too late. Don't put yourself in the position where it will be necessary to compromise on a "second choice".

See the Paige dealer today.

winner of the Rushville-Greensburg team tonight in the final. Milroy and Shelbyville stood a chance of playing only 2 games, while the other winner must win three.

With Rushville walking away with Carthage, local fans were pulling hard for a victory over Greensburg in the game at three o'clock. Rushville must win this game to keep in the running, and as both teams expected to reach the final a real fight was expected.

A large crowd was on hand for the opening game. The Rushville rooters were well organized and kept things lively throughout the contest. The showing of the Rush-

ville team against Carthage was nothing to brag over. The team was confident of a victory, but did not figure on the fact that Carthage developed. For this reason the Rushville team took things easy in order to save up for the final struggles.

Carthage Downed.

Carthage scored first on a foul goal, but a minute later Stoops came across with a field goal and from then on Rushville was never headed. The score in the first half was close all the way and the half ended 12 to 8 in favor of Rushville.

The second half was a repetition of the first, except that Rushville played better ball and Carthage could not stand the pace. Carson and Stoops were the stars in the final period. At times the game was very rough. Winslow was disqualified for committing three personal fouls. Almost every member of the Rushville team had as many as two fouls, but escaped the penalty.

The Rushville team had trouble

locating the basket. Many shots went wide of the mark, and the team played good ball only in spots. The Rushville team came out of the contest in good shape and was confident of winning from Greensburg.

Connersville Loses.

In the Greensburg-Connersville game the Greensburg five outclassed the Fayette county team and held the lead from the very start. G. Turner, the tall center of the Greensburg team, was the star of the game. He made a total of 16 points for his team and was as good on the defensive as on the offensive. Hatter and Gregg for Connersville played the best game but Greensburg showed to advantage on the big floor and soon had all the fight taken out of Connersville. Up to noon the games had gone according to expectations. Little was expected of Connersville and the promise was fulfilled.

MANILLA WINS TWO

Manilla teams were victorious in both games of basketball played at Manilla last night. The high school defeated the Arlington high school, 31 to 20, in the first contest, and in the second the Manilla Independents won from the Rushville Tigers, 82 to 16. Marlatt refereed the second game and Hilligoss the first.

Charles Bennett and Ralph Waggoner were arraigned before Mayor Behout on assault and battery charges today and both pleaded not guilty. Their trials were set for Thursday, March 2. Waggoner gave bond and Bennett went to jail.

DRINK HOT WATER IF YOU DESIRE A ROSY COMPLEXION

Says we can't help but look better and feel better after an inside bath.

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Men and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphate hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

PENNY SUPPER.

One of the most successful Penny Suppers ever given at the St. Paul's M. E. church here was the one last evening when the ladies of the second division of the Aid Society were hostesses and proved their success in the culinary arts by the goodly sum of seventy dollars and over which they took in. An excellent supper was served.

A merry crowd of ladies formed a party last evening and dined together at the Penny Supper. Their round of pleasure was completed with a visit to the moving picture theatre. The Evening Bridge Club spent a merry evening last night when they were the guests of Mrs. Francis Moor and Miss Helen Seudder, at the home of latter. Among the players was Mrs. George Dehority of Elwood.

PITCH-IN SUPPER.

With their usual life and jollity the crowd of girls in the T. O. G. Club enjoyed a pitch-in supper last evening at the home of Miss Margaret Bell. For the pleasant evening that gathered about the table had been decorated with an artistic basket of fruit. An elaborate three-course dinner was served thanks to the aid of each guest. The party was brought to a close with a visit to the "movie." Enjoying this evening of social delight were the Misses Catherine Wooden, Kathryn Giffin, Dorothy Mulno, Helen Frazee Dorothy Sparks, Lois Reeves and her guest, Miss Fae Youll of Indianapolis, Katherine Wright, and Dorothy Frazee.

ROOK PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Daubenspeck entertained with a Rook party at their hospitable home northeast of the city on Tuesday evening. Being also their fifth wedding anniversary, the occasion was one of unusual jollity. SURPRISE PARTY.

A most pleasurable surprise was tendered Glen Boer last evening at his home in Raleigh, when honoring his eighteenth birthday, a merry crowd of young people assembled at his home, in response to the invitations issued by his mother, without his knowledge of it. The plans were so well carried out that the whole crowd of thirty-five were in the house before he was aware of the affair. Among the amusements of the evening, an automobile contest was one of the cleverest, when the names of popular machines were guessed from sentences. A number of other games also helped to make the evening a jolly one. Names for partners for supper were drawn and the guests were escorted into the dining room where supper was daintily served. With a color scheme of pink and white, the whole home was prettily decorated. Pink and white carnations, several bouquets of them, gave the rooms an airy and home-like effect.

One of the most interesting and successful lodge events of the winter was the meeting held at the I. O. O. F. Hall last evening when the Rebekahs entertained about two hundred and seventy-five guests at a hot chicken supper. The tables were beautiful, the decorations being potted plants bright with blossoms. Those in attendance from out of the city were Capitol Lodge number 250 and Olive Branch number 10 of Indianapolis, Arlington, Greensburg, Shelbyville, Blue Ridge, Homer and Milroy. The Arlington visitors included Mrs. Bert Leisure, Mr. and Mrs. James Alsmann, Mrs. William Mann, Mrs. Noah Price, Mrs. Mable Gardner, Miss Goldie Penby, Miss Sue Woods, Mrs. Hannah Havens, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Innis, Miss Nellie Lawrence, Mrs. Stella Davis, Miss Mary Woods, Miss Nina Seward, Miss Viva Seward, Frank Lawrence, J. VICKERY-LOGAN WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Sallie Logan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Logan, and Lowell C. Vickery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erban Vickery, took place at the home of the bride's parents in Union township at seven-thirty o'clock Wednesday evening, Mrs. Ross Logan played "Angel Voices Ever Near," while the guests gathered in the parlor before the ceremony. Mrs. Minor Bell sang "Oh, Perfect Love," and then the Lohengrin Wedding March was played by Mrs. Ross Logan, while the couple, accompanied by the Rev. G. F. Powers, appeared. The couple stood in front of an arch, decorated in white and pink crepe paper, white and pink carnations, smilax, and large potted ferns formed the background of the arch. The ceremony performed, Mrs. Minor Bell sang, "O, Promise Me," while the young couple were receiving congratulations. The bride was attired in white organdie over net, and carried an arm bouquet of white roses. After congratulations were over the guests proceeded to

Some unfortunate men and women are prone to wonder why some of their friends are blessed with an abundance of color—pink cheeks and red lips—while theirs are always colorless. The reason for this last named condition is—there is not enough red blood corpuscle in the blood—under a microscope the blood is thin and watery. The flesh is flabby, too. Well-known physicians assert that the regular administration for several months, of 5 grain toneline tablets will greatly improve the color, add to the weight, make the cheeks pink and the lips red and in general be very beneficial. For self administration obtain from any druggist. For sale by Hargrove and Mullin. (Advertisement)

Arrangements have been perfected by which the New York Metropolitan Company will be brought to Rushville. If a sufficient response can be secured from the public in general the company will come here March 10th under the auspices of the K. K. K., they having arranged for the concert.

This will be one of the biggest musical events ever given in Rushville. A representative of the Bureau which presents this company of artists is here, and together with the local organization will endeavor to make a success by making this a subscription concert. Of this company, Vladimir Neveloff, the New York manager, says:

"In presenting Skovgaard, the Danish Violinist, and the New York Metropolitan Company, to the concert going public of this country, I feel confident that I am offering a most attractive and remarkable attraction of great variety. It is a combination of Grand Opera Singers and concert performers, each one being a star and well known to the public. They will not only sing the arias and operatic duets with which they have won their fame, but when you have heard Molly Byerly Wilson sing: "Oh Dry Those Tears," you will know there is more than one Schumann-Heink in existence. Florence Hawkins'

bird-like voice will enchant you; Clara Freuler's marvelously true and human interpretation of the beautiful Swiss folk song will captivate you; and Francis W. Cowles? Yes, he will sing: "Danny Deever." Skovgaard will, with his $50,000.00 hand, on his $13,000.00 violin, carry you back to the days of Ole Bull; and the pianist, Alice McClung, will charm you, not only through her splendid accompaniments, but when she plays Liszt, you cannot fail to recognize that you are listening to one of the most brilliant pianists of today."

"The entertainment given by this remarkable company of instrumental artists and Grand Opera Singers is after the style of the popular Sunday concerts held in the Metropolitan Opera House, New York City. Greatest variety in music—Arias from your favorite operas in the beautiful original costumes—Folk songs in national costume—The famous sextette from "Lucia" and the "Barcarolle" from "The Tales of Hoffman," Classical music—Chamber music—Popular music—In fact an entertainment for everybody."

You will be solicited for tickets. Help make this extraordinary musical event the success it should be, by subscribing for seats.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical profession. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. Physician in the Treatment of Chronic Diseases.

The United Doctors Specialist licensed by the State of Indiana, for the treatment of all diseases including deformities, nervous and chronic diseases of men, women and children, offer to all who call on this trip, consultation, examination, advice free, making no charge whatever, except the actual cost of treatment. All that is asked in return for these valuable services is that every person treated will state the result obtained to their friends and thus prove to the sick and afflicted in every city and locality, that at last treatments have been discovered that are reasonably sure and certain in their effect.

The United Doctors are experts in the treatment of chronic diseases and so great and wonderful have been their results that in many cases it is hard to find the dividing line between skill and miracle.

Diseases of the stomach, intestines, liver, blood, skin, nerves, heart, pleura, rheumatism, sciatic, tapeworm, leg ulcers, weak lungs and those afflicted with long-standing, deep seated, chronic diseases, that have baffled the skill of the family physicians, should not fail to call. Deafness often has been cured in sixty days.

According to their system no more operations for appendicitis, gall stones, tumors, goiter, piles, etc., as all cases accepted will be treated without operation or hypodermic injection, as they were among the first in America to earn the name of "Bloodless Surgeons," by doing away with the knife with blood and with all pain in the successful treatment of these dangerous diseases.

No matter what your ailment may be, no matter what others may have told you, no matter what experience you may have had with other physicians, it will be to your advantage to see them at once. Have it forever settled in your mind. If your case is incurable they will give you such advice as may relieve and stay the disease. Do not put off this duty you owe yourself or friends or relatives who are suffering because of your sickness, as a visit at this time may help you.

Worn-out and run-down men or women, no matter what your ailment may be, call, it costs you nothing. Remember, this free offer is for this visit only.

ver P. Morton to pour oil on troubled waters because an enrolling officer had shortly before that been killed. Although Hendricks was a Democrat, he counseled obedience to the law but at the same time urged adherence to Democratic principles.

Judge Comstock also recited another circumstance in his life where he refused what was virtually a public office. By virtue of his service in gallanting recruits, he was entitled to the commission as second lieutenant. A school teacher at Cadiz who had been urged to enlist by Judge Comstock told the judge he did not feel that he could go to war and support his family on $13 a month, a private's pay. In order to make it possible to the school teacher to become a soldier, Judge Comstock said he relinquished his claim on the place of second lieutenant and gave it to the Cadiz man.

"It is charged against me that I am old and have held office long enough," said Judge Comstock near the close of his speech when he discussed his candidacy. "I may answer to the crime of being old and of having held public but I shall not attempt to extenuate nor to deny. The offices with which I have been honored have come to me by the votes of the people. I discharged their duties as best I could and in a manner, so far as I know, to escape public criticism.

"One of the offices I was chosen to fill was in Henry county, not a lucrative one, prosecuting attorney of the common pleas court, with a salary of $200 a year. I resigned to enter the army.

"On the careless front and brow of youth ever rests hope, sometimes folly, never experience. Youth is a blessing—not a merit. Age often is due to the self-denial which makes one strong, to the submission of ill fortune without repinings. The was that weight on age are loss of health and loss of friends. When life is in the yellow leaf, its fruits may still remain. Age brings experience, the pleasures of memory, the recollections of devotion of friends, and sometimes of deeds that ennoble and deeds that justify pride, if human pride is ever justified.

"I am old enough to have taken part, a very humble one, in the war of the rebellion. I served successively as private, corporal, sergeant and commissioned officers. I saw the colors we love so well rise and fall as the tide of battle ebbed and flowed. And once on a bleak December day when the air was laden with leaden hail, I saw them and the gallant Indian soldier who bore them fall. The colors rose again. It was my privilege under a heavy firing to help a wounded comrade from the field. Until he passed away I was assured of his grateful affection. I hope I may be pardoned for this personal allusion. With my home folks I may take a liberty. Were I today offered youth with its sweet enchantments in exchange for the facts and memories of my having done what I could to preserve the integrity of the States, I would not accept the offer. I hold that to fight for one's country is a just cause."

Judge Comstock gave a brief synopsis of the tariff legislation in this country, showing that the Republican party had never been one of obstruction, but that, on the contrary, it had always legislated to foster commerce, manufacturing and declaring under its guidance the nation had always prospered and made its greatest strides. He dwelt for a time on the sectionalism of the Democratic party and recalled that its numerical strength was in the south.

Referring to war "prosperity," he said, in part:

"The prosperity the country now enjoys and for which the Democratic party will claim credit is largely due to the awful war waged across the ocean, to the waste and destruction of property incident to the war.

"Hundreds of thousands of horses have been purchased in this country to fall with their riders on the bloody fields of France and Belgium. The prosperity which has swollen the fortunes of brokers and holders of stocks, now known as munition stocks, representing the properties and equipments necessary in war.

"It is not based upon the wise administration of economic affairs nor the policy of any political party. Such prosperity is nourished by the blood of fathers and husbands and sons, and watered by the tears of women and children.

"Let us hope that the cause of this prosperity having its origin in the mad riot of war may soon end. That end, to be sure, cannot restore the slain husband or son, nor rebuild from their ashes destroyed homes, yet it may stay the unavailing tears of many a widowed mother. Humanity is shocked in contemplation of the outrages and sufferings endured by innocent, helpless women and children, and we can only hope that the Almighty in his own way may sometime lay his chastening hand upon the cruel cause of such immeasurable woes. And yet for these conditions which we must so deeply deplore, conditions which have been called 'blood-soaked boom times,' we would be in the midst of a panic surpassing the panics of former years."

Notary Public

Vote for "33" Ezekiel M. Jones (better known as "Zeke") a Republican Candidate for Sheriff, from Ripley Township, Rush County, at Primary March 7, 1916.

I have found it absolutely impossible to see all of the voters before the Primary to solicit their support for my candidacy for Republican nomination for Sheriff of Rush County, but I desire to say that I have always been a loyal, staunch and true blue Republican. I live in Ripley Township now and cast my first vote in Rush County for James G. Blaine. I nor any of my immediate family have never held nor asked for any public office nor have I been the nominee for any except that I was a candidate in 1912 for Sheriff of Rush County and withdrew on the fourth ballot in the county delegate convention, and went out and worked my best for the ticket, as I always have done.

FOR REFERENCE to my Republicanism or qualifications for this office I refer you to any business man or bank in Rush county.

I CAN BE ELECTED IF NOMINATED.

My number on ballott will be 33 on all ballots
I thank you in advance for your support, Yours Very Truly,

Ezekiel M. Jones

CHAPLIN'S SUCCESS REAL WHEN HE DIRECTED HIS OWN COMEDIES.

He Happened on to a Pair of Shoes and His Mustache is But a Shadow of its Former Self—A Subtle Comedian.

He never made a real success, however, until Mack Sennett let him direct his own comedies. Sennett is a very keen judge of character, and he saw that if anything was to be had out of Chaplin, it must be had in Chaplin's own way. He reconstructed the organization to enable Chaplin to direct his own comedies.

Sennett's decision brought into being the quaint character with the little stubby mustache, the big shoes and the cane that is known wherever motion pictures are shown.

Chaplin's first picture with the Keystone company was a little comedy sketch called "A Film Journey." It was taken at the first cycle car races given in southern California. Chaplin had the part of a picture man who was always wandering out in front of the cameras that were trained on the race. His part was merely intended to "carry" the motion pictures of a race.

A good many of Chaplin's earliest pictures with the Keystone were of this character; he was used to put in incidental business in big news events. In one news picture taken at San Pedro Harbor, for instance, he was assigned the part of a roughneck woman who was very severe with her husband.

Introduces New Note.

As a director, Chaplin introduced a new note into moving pictures. Theretofore most of the comedy effects had been riotous boisterousness. Chaplin, like many foreign pantomimists, got his effects in a more subtle way and with less action. Also he worked alone to a greater extent than any other picture comedian.

By making the most of the little subtle effects, Chaplin enlarged the field of all motion-picture comedies. It goes without saying that the simpler effects a man needs for his fun-making the more effects he has to draw on. One of the very funniest situations, for instance, in any of the Chaplin comedies was in "His Trysting Place," where Chaplin used the whiskers of a guest in a cue for a napkin.

About That Make-Up.

The general impression is that Chaplin worked with this same outfit from the beginning of his picture work, but this is not true. In his first pictures for the Keystone, Chaplin wore a long, drooping mustache and a top hat. He wore ordinary shoes. In almost his first pictures, however, he began wearing the amazing "pumps" that still adorn him.

His first costume didn't suit him at all. The Keystone people say he was always poking around the property room trying to get upon some sort of clothes that would "register." One day he came out grinning with a funny old pair of shoes in his hands. They were long and curled up at the toes. They reached right out and shook hands with Chaplin as soon as he saw them. They had been Ford Sterling's and had been left behind when Sterling quit the company. Chaplin has worn these identical shoes ever since. Then he began trimming off his long, drooping mustache. Every day it grew shorter, until finally it was the little toothbrush that is now so famous. He then substituted a round derby for his top hat, and his costume was complete as it

His costume was not the only difficulty he found in getting adjusted to the movies. To tell the truth, he was miserably unhappy at first, and hated the work in every way. Ford Sterling had just left the company and it was hoped that Chaplin would take his place. They naturally looked to see Chaplin work on the same lines as the comedian they had lost.

Chaplin, however, worked on entirely different methods. Sterling worked very rapidly, dashing hither and thither at top speed. Chaplin's comedy was slow and deliberate, and he made a great deal out of little things—little subtleties. They tried to force him to take up the Ford Sterling style and Chaplin refused. That is to say, he wouldn't. He just listened to what they had to say, then did it in his own way.

The net result was a very sultry time. Chaplin's first director was Pathe Lehmman. They quarreled all the time during the first of Chaplin's work. Mabel Normand and Chaplin fought like a black dog and a monkey. Lehmman finally appealed to Mack Sennett; he said he couldn't do anything with Chaplin. The Keystone people say that the hardest "call-down" anybody ever got at the Keystone was that handed to Chaplin by Sennett because he refused to obey the director. Chaplin took the boss' breezy remarks as a joke to the president are drunk—standing and in silence. But he went right on acting in his own way. Finally Lehmman passed him on to another director, who had an equally bad time with him.

The Keystone people came to the conclusion that they had picked a fine lemon in Chaplin. Personally he was very popular, but it was generally agreed that he would never make good as a picture actor.

How He "Happened."

Finally, Mack Sennett took a hand at directing Chaplin himself. They were then putting on a play called "Mabel's Strange Predicament." Chaplin had a small part where he did some funny business in the lobby of a hotel. Mack Sennett decided to see just what this Englishman would do if they let him have his own way. He turned the mist loose and let him be funny as he liked.

Mack Sennett saw in a flash that some big stuff was going over, and from that minute Chaplin became a real star.

Sennett, during the next few pictures, put in Chaplin to do little comedy bits that called for the same kind of stuff he showed in the lobby of the hotel. Chaplin was always funny in these bits, but Sennett saw that, to be entirely successful, he must have a company of his own. The other actors' work was out of tune with the Chaplin method. Sennett was quick to see that almost immeasurable things could be gotten out of Chaplin, but he also saw that the Chaplin pictures must, in the future, be built with Chaplin as the foundation. The whole comedy must be adjusted to his tempo, and even the scenario would have to be different from the kind of scenario ordinarily used by the Keystone people. It must be slower and more subtle.

(The next installment of this interesting biography will be run in an early issue. Watch for it.)

War Office Statement is Vague, But Admits Armies Have Taken up New Positions Today.

(By United Press.)

Paris, Feb. 26.—French forces, resisting heroically the German assault, have taken up new positions today back by the Meuse hills, the war office announced this afternoon.

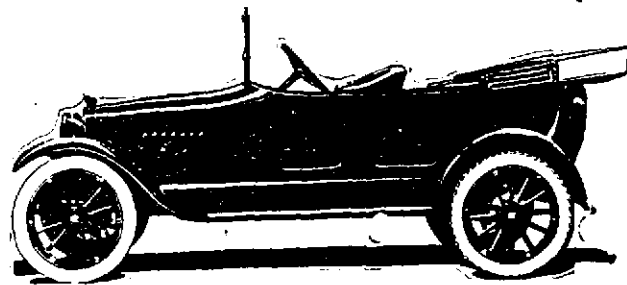

"The battle north of Verdun is continuing," said official statement.

"According to the last information the French troops are resisting the Germans without counting the sacrifices. French artillery is replying shell for shell to the German fire.

The French official statement, very vague, carries no confirmation of German reports of the capture of Douaumont. At the same time the statement that the French have taken up new positions indicates that the French forces have been compelled to retreat still farther.

The teachers of Union, Jackson, and Ripley townships held their institute in the teachers' examination room of the court house today.

GERMANS TAKE OUTER FORT

Douaumont, Four Miles From Verdun, Captured From French.

Berlin, (Via London), Feb. 26.—The strong fortress of Douaumont, one of the fortified positions of Verdun, was captured by the Germans yesterday, the war office announced today.

Douaumont lies four miles north-east of the outskirts of Verdun. Its capture is the first break in the line of Verdun forts and indicates the French have been driven back from the strongly fortified heights from the north and are being hurled back still farther.
